
Construction Companies/Help with clearing brush

Posted by tateeskew - 2008/08/25 22:17

amy and i are contacting construction companies this week and trying to get them out here to give us a quote on drying in the studio. just wanted to let everyone know.

we are also going to need some help clearing some brush around the structure so the guys will be able to work quickly. it should be easy work and a good reason to get outside. hopefully we can do it this weekend. if not, it will be a night next week. anyone in? :)

I'm going to be in New Orleans visiting my sister this weekend and working Saturday morning, so I'm not available except Friday mid-day (between 1 and 5).

Let me know what night next week and I'll make it out.

that's cool sean. thanks for the info.

amy and i have 3 different contractors coming this week to give us quotes on drying-in the studio.

I'm heading to Philly tomorrow (Thursday) to visit Amanda, otherwise I'd be there this weekend to help. I won't be back until Tuesday night.

any other suggested dates for a clean up (day beer drinking) date? what does next weekend look like to people?
